Positions Improved On the Flanders Sector Northwest of Merville

COUNTER ATTACK OF ENEMY BROKEN UP BY ARTILLERY

French Take 400 Prisoners On Lys Front Near Mt. Kemmel

(Associated Press Telegram) London, May 20.—Northwest of Merville in the Flanders salient the British improved their positions last night, the war office announces. Thirty prisoners and six machine guns were taken by the British in this operation.

A counter-attack on the new positions launched this morning after a period of heavy shelling was crushed by the British artillery and machine guns.

The statement says: "A successful local operation was carried out by troops of the Surrey battalion yesterday evening northwest of Merville. A re-entrant in our line in this sector was closed up and 30 prisoners and six machine guns were captured by us."

"Early this morning a hostile counter-attack against the new positions delivered after a heavy bombardment was broken up by our artillery and machine gun fire."

"We carried out a successful raid last night southeast of Arras and brought back a few prisoners and a machine gun from the enemy trenches."

"During the night the hostile artillery was active in the Albert sector, about Hebuterne between the forest of Nieppe and Scherpenberg, and more active than usual between the Scarpe river and Hill No. 70 north of Lens. The gas shelling reported to have taken place yesterday north of Bethune was heavy."

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches) Delay in the launching of the expected German offensive apparently is giving the allied troops little concern as they improve their positions here and there by strong local attacks. Whether the Germans are prepared to renew the heavy fighting is not yet clear, but strangely, they do not react against the Anglo-French nibbling tactics.

On the Lys front between Mont Kemmel and the heights of Mont Regie and Scherpenberg the French have greatly improved their positions in a forward movement along a front of two miles. Not only were important gains made but more than 400 German prisoners were captured. The enemy has yet made no counter attack there nor has he made any effort to retake the village of Ville-Sur-Ancres, on the Somme front, captured in a gallant attack by the Australians, Sunday.

CAMEL, DOG AND HORSE MEAT ARE SOLD IN SAXONY

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, May 21.—Camel meat, dog meat and horse meat are being eaten in Saxony by the poorer classes, according to the Berliner Tageblatt of April 7, a copy of which has been received here. The camel meat is being sold in Zwickau and comes from the mohair camel of the Hagenback menagerie which gave a show in Zwickau in March. The camels were sold to a butcher because of lack of fodder. The larger camels gave from 300 to 400 pounds of meat.

Consumption of dog meat and horse meat has increased greatly owing to the war time scarcity of meat and the price also has gone up. Dog meat sells for three marks 75 pfennings and horse meat at one mark 80 pfennings.

14 TRAPPED IN BURNING MINE

(Associated Press Telegram) Charleston, W. Va., May 21.—Seven members of a rescue party were overcome by gas in this mine of the Mill Creek Cannel Coal Mining company at Villa, W. Va., this morning while trying to reach 14 miners who were trapped in the workings late yesterday when the main entry caught fire. They were saved by other working parties, and physicians said none would die.

A rescue car of the United States bureau of mines is being hurried to Villa from Monongahia, W. Va., and is expected to reach the burning mine this afternoon.

Meantime, large numbers of miners are working hard to extinguish the flames and reach their imprisoned comrades.

SWISS PAINTER DEAD. Berne, May 20.—Ferdinand Hodler, a leading Swiss painter is dead here at the age of 65.

GERMAN-IRISH PLOT UNEARTHED BY U. S. AGENTS

Partly Responsible For Recent Arrest of Irish Leaders By England

GERMANY AGREED TO FURNISH MONEY TO FINANCE REBELLION

Had Planned to Send Arms and Ammunition to Ireland

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, May 21.—Evidence of plotting between German and Irish agents in this country for an uprising in Ireland has been uncovered by United States government agents and is partly responsible for the recent arrest of Irish leaders by the British government.

This evidence which may be made public soon, is understood to show definitely that Irish leaders, mainly Sinn Fein sympathizers in the United States have been in touch with German representatives who agreed to furnish money to finance a rebellion in Ireland and possibly to send arms and ammunition to Ireland by submarines or blockade runners. There was even some discussion of the chances of sending German soldiers to take part in warfare on Irish soil.

The uprising was set for about this time, when the Germans had planned to reach the channel ports after their great drive in France and it was believed England would be thrown into confusion by the German victories.

Ireland was to be freed entirely from British influence if possible and the Germans counted strongly on the Irish trouble to drive Great Britain's attention from the fighting in France and at the channel ports at the very time when it would be most necessary for the country to keep calm to prevent a German invasion.

Information concerning these plots has been gathered by several investigating agencies of the U. S. government and turned over to the state department which forwarded it to representatives of the British government. In many cases the information provided leads by which British secret agents found evidence of plotting in Ireland.

Negotiations were allowed to proceed for some time in the hope that more of the plotters would be rounded up finally and the arrests are believed to have been ordered by British officials at this time because it became evident that an open outbreak was about to be precipitated.

It was hinted today that a number of Sinn Fein sympathizers in the United States are under watch for further developments in the Irish plot. The secret systems of negotiations had been in progress for several months, it is understood. This tends to confirm the statement from London that the series of arrests several days ago had no direct connection with plans to conscript the Irish. Some information was obtained from Germans now held in internment camps in this country. There is indication also that the seat of the German Irish negotiations was transferred at times to other American republics.

SUSPECTED OF BANK ROBBERY IN ILLINOIS

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, May 21.—The arrest of two couples and the finding in their rooms at a local hotel last night of $13,392 concealed in dresser drawers and handbags, may lead to the solution of a bank robbery in Madison, Ill., in which the robbers retained $14,000, and other western bank robberies, was the hope expressed by police officials. The men stood in a corner of the room when five city detectives entered with drawn revolvers, but they surrendered without firing a shot.

The suspects registered at police station as follows: Edward J. Adams, 43 years old, Chicago chef; Mrs. Margaret Edwards, 24 years old, widow, Chicago; Alexander MacKeon, 32 years old, Chicago, brick-setter and his wife, Helen MacKeon, 24 years old, Chicago.

At the hotel the pairs were registered as George Perry and wife and E. J. Adams and wife, all of Winchester, Ind.

GERMANS SEIZE THE DUTCH SHIP AGNETA

Amsterdam, Monday, May 20.—The Germans have seized and taken to Swinemunde, Prussia, the Dutch ship Agneta which was bound from Stockholm for Rotterdam. According to the Handelsblad the German minister at Stockholm refused to supply the steamer with safe conduct as the German naval staff had decided not to issue any until the conclusion of the negotiations now in progress between the Dutch and German governments.

MUST MARKET ALL WHEAT OR SUFFER THE CONSEQUENCES

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, May 21.—List of farmers in every county have been sent to county food committees by State Administrator Fred C. Croxton, on information that they have been hoarding wheat. Instructions are given to the county committees to make one more appeal to get this wheat to the market.

The suspects average more than a dozen to a county. The food administration has inquired into the sales of individual farmers since the last harvest and compared them with average sales in previous years.

"We resorted to requisition of wheat in one county and may have to take similar action in others," Croxton's instructions say. "The wheat situation has reached a stage so acute that it is imperative that farmers still holding wheat shall market it at once, retaining only enough for seed and flour purposes."

M'ADOO REMOVES A RAILWAY HEAD

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, May 21.—C. W. Huntington of New York, has been removed by Director General McAdoo, as president of the Virginian railway, for disobedience of the railroad administration's order for maintenance and improvement of his road. J. M. Young of Norfolk, Va., has been appointed federal director of the road.

GERMANS COMMANDEER ALL AVAILABLE LINEN

London, May 19.—All washable table cloths and napkins remaining unsold in shops throughout Germany have been commandeered by the imperial clothing office, according to German papers, in order to replenish the army's impoverished supply of material for bandages, bed-linen and other hospital requirements which have become increasingly urgent as a result of heavy casualties. Merchants are permitted to retain only such "linen" as is made of paper fibre or of other linen substitutes.

AN ECHO FROM THE LATE LEHMAN MURDER TRIAL

Toledo, May 21.—When a large potted cactus was upset on the Frederick Lehman farm, near Swanton, yesterday, a box of 22-calibre cartridges, from which six were missing, was found embedded among the roots. The cartridges now are in possession of Sheriff Boone of Fulton county.

Lehman was convicted several months ago of the murder of his young wife, for the slaying of Alice Fenlon, a neighbor's wife. He is serving a life sentence. There were no eye-witnesses to the murder. The evidence was purely circumstantial. Lehman's revolver was found under the milk shed, but the box of cartridges, concerning which two witnesses testified, could not be found. Six shells were found in the revolver, three of them exploded. One bullet was found in Mrs. Grace Lehman's brain and two in Lehman's leg. The state's theory was that Lehman's wounds, which were slight, were self-inflicted, in an attempt to support his story that robbers had attacked him and murdered his wife.

750,000 IS ESTIMATE NUMBER OF YOUTHS WHO ARE ELIGIBLE

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, May 21.—Estimates today by Major General Crowder, provost marshal general, indicate that, probably three-quarters of a million men will be obtained for the army by the registration on June 5 of all youths who have attained 21 years of age since June 5, last.

President Wilson, in a proclamation published today formally fixed June 5, next as the date of registration under the selective draft for all youths attaining the age of 21 years since the first registration day, June 5, 1917.

The proclamation was issued in accordance with the act of congress making the youths eligible for service. All men, whether citizens or not, are required to register, but exemptions under the original act, including men already in the military service apply. Divinity and medical students are exempted.

COWBOYS AFTER DRAFT EVADER

Fallon, Nev., May 21.—Nearly 200 cowboys and ranchers early today surrounded Paul Walters, alleged draft-evader, who shot and seriously wounded Sheriff Mark Wildes last Sunday in the mountains, 100 miles from here.

Walters, who is heavily armed and well-supplied with ammunition, is reported to have said he would not be taken alive. As the cowboys have been instructed to shoot to kill, a fight was expected some time today.

SOLDIERS INJURED IN A TRAIN WRECK

(Associated Press Telegram) Texarkana, Ark., May 21.—Troop train No. 351, northbound, was wrecked near Garland City, Ark., today, the engine and four coaches being overturned. The engineer and firemen are reported to have been killed and 16 or more soldiers injured.

GREAT OUTPOURING OF PEOPLE TO PARTICIPATE IN THE INAUGURATION OF THE WAR CHEST DRIVE TO RAISE $360,000 IN LICKING COUNTY

PARADE WHICH WAS REVIEWED BY GOV. JAS. COX WAS AN HOUR AND A HALF IN PASSING THE STAND

Marching Clubs and Societies Presented Inspiring Sight and Beautiful Floats and Novel Features Added to the Pleasures of Vast Throngs of People Who Crowded Streets Along Entire Line of March—Patriotic Address of Ohio's Governor Thrills Thousands Who Heard Him Speak From Steps of Courthouse—Great War Chest Drive Now On In Earnest and if Last Night's Enthusiasm and Patriotism is Criterion, It Will Prove Big Success but that with the determination and enthusiasm shown, which is reflected and repeated in every part of the country, it was impossible to lose in the present conflict.

With numerous musical organizations interspersing the vast marching bodies, the whole parade swung into line but a little late the delay being occasioned by the detaining of the Governor and his party at the war chest dinner.

Business had joined hands with industry and the city and county co-operated to make the occasion possible. The manufacturers of the city seemed to turn out to a man. The Wehrle company had a marching party which was a revelation and an education to the people of Newark and the county. The B. and O. employees also marched in great numbers.

The huge tank, with its expulsions of fire was the work of the Wehrle company and a mammoth gun, which belched red fire was the work of the American Bottle company. Also other features added to the interest. The meat grinder with the remains of the Kaiser. An auto with Bill, himself, held prisoner by two American soldiers.

The beautiful Red Cross float in white with its large Red Cross and the wounded soldier and his nurse attendants presented an appealing tableau. Inspirational was the wide lines of women garbed in the uniform of the Red Cross, marching proudly behind the float.

The uniformed ranks of the different lodges presented a splendid appearance, and great bodies of men of the various fraternal organizations marched with umbrellas bearing the colors of their organizations. The Knights of Columbus pulled a large float on which was the great war chest, around which were grouped young women. Patriotic floats of every description and many of them strikingly original were seen. Automobiles were draped with flowers, while others were converted into moving bodies of the national colors. Uncle Sam was seen many times throughout the parade and a huge U-boat was another good feature. The Goddess of Liberty and her attendants filled another machine.

DIVORCE AIR SERVICE FROM SIGNAL CORPS

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, May 21.—President Wilson under authority of the new law empowering him to reorganize government agencies, has divorced the army air service from the signal corps and created a bureau of aircraft production with final, complete and exclusive jurisdiction over airplane manufacture.

The executive order, affecting the air service reorganization was issued yesterday and puts control of production in the hands of a director of the newly created bureau who at the same time is chairman of the aircraft board. This gives full legal status and power to John D. Ryan, recently appointed director of aircraft production and Chairman of the aircraft production board. The president's order also transfers to Mr. Ryan all funds, lands, buildings and personnel of the signal corps engaged in aircraft production.

What effect the president's action will have on the Chamberlain resolution pending in the senate and authorizing a further investigation of aircraft production by the military committee, was not apparent today. Conferences looking to a compromise that will allay the president's objections to the resolution still were underway with leaders of both factions hopeful of avoiding open conflict tomorrow when Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, a member of the military committee, has announced he will call up the resolution regardless of whether an agreement has been reached.

STAMPS SOLD FOR $24 AT POSTOFFICE BRING SUM OF $20,000

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, May 21.—A sheet of 100 of the new postal airplane stamps, but with the airplane turned upside-down through an error made by the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington, has been purchased for $20,000 by Colonel E. H. R. Green of Texas, son of the late Hettie Green, it was learned here today. Over a window counter at the postoffice in Washington this sheet sold for $24.

So far as is known here this is the only sheet that escaped the vigilance of the Washington postal authorities. Three other sheets were discovered and were cancelled so that their postal value was nullified and these probably will be destroyed.

The stamps bought by Colonel Green were turned back by a Washington citizen at the stamp window because the airplane was inverted. In the line behind this citizen was a man who sensed the philatelic value of the sheet and purchased it at its face-value and it reached the hands of a Philadelphia stamp dealer who today received a bid of $12,500 prior to the higher offer made by Colonel Green.

Colonel Green said here today he planned to retain a portion of the sheet for his collection and dispose of the other stamps among his friends. It is predicted by philatelists that if the sheet proves to be the only one in existence outside the government ownership the stamps will attain a philatelic value of $250 each.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Porter—Lampton.
A pretty rural home wedding occurred Monday noon when Miss Mary Lampton became the bride of Mr. Bertram Porter. The ceremony was performed in the presence of immediate relatives at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lampton of near Glenford. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Porter, who reside near Zanesville. The attendants were Miss Dorothy Porter and Miss Rae Barnes. Rev. Prof. J. A. Garber of Ashland, Ohio, was the officiating clergyman, using the impressive ring ceremony. After a delicious meal the contracting parties left for Scott Station, Ala., and when returning will be at home to their friends at the groom's home.

A very delightful time was had at the gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weaver, 203 Lawrence street in honor of the marriage of their son, Sergeant Clifton I. Hawkins to Miss Hazel Gundy, May 18. Dinner was served to sixty guests, all being relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The home was beautifully decorated with flowers and our national colors, the red, white and blue. All departed wishing the newly-weds a long and prosperous wedded life. Sergeant Hawkins returns to camp, May 25, to Fort Sill, Okla. While Mrs. Hawkins will remain in Newark for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston K. Fulk delightfully entertained at their home four miles south of the city, Sunday, a host of friends and relatives in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Preston's sister, Mrs. Mary Unterhager.

A very pleasant day was enjoyed by all, and at 1:30 dinner was served the following guests, Mrs. Mary Unterhager, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hoskinson, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Snell, Mrs. Daisy Shon, Mr. and Mrs. John Unterhager, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan and Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Fulk. Misses Mary Elizabeth Snelling, Emma Unterhager, Edna Fulk, Messrs. William Shannon, Daniel Unterhager, George Unterhager, Russell Hoskinson, Harold Fulk and Joseph Unterhager.

Mrs. Unterhager received several nice remembrances.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wooles have returned home after spending the week end with friends and relatives in Coshocton. While there they attended the very pretty wedding of Mrs. Wooles' brother, Glenn Bumgardner and Miss Alma Porter. Both are well known young people of Coshocton county.

Fernow—Hupp.
The marriage of Miss Anna Mae Hupp and Mr. Harry Frederick Fernow was solemnized at the parsonage of the Neal Avenue M. E. church on Monday evening at 6 o'clock, Rev. Paul E. Kemper officiating.

The bridegroom is a soldier at Camp Sherman, and resides in Bowers avenue. Mrs. Fernow lives in Neal avenue.

The Colonial Sewing circle will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Delard Phillips, 584 Prior avenue.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Miss Louise Kuster, who has been spending the past few days with her sister, Mrs. Clem Dotter, Columbus, returned to her home, 60 Commodore street, last night.

Keeping the Hair Healthy.
If there is one opinion that the civilized world agrees to, it is that healthy, sheeny, abundant hair is not only beautiful, but is an absolutely necessary auxiliary to beauty. And the hair cannot be healthy unless the general constitution is so. Nervous or physical disorders often affect the hair before they touch any other part of the body. For this reason, health of body must be the first

MUCH RHEUMATISM

Local Druggists' No-Cure No-Pay Offer Attracts Many Sufferers.

If there are any rheumatic sufferers in town who have not availed themselves of T. J. Evans' generous offer they should do so at once. He states that if Rheuma, the guaranteed prescription for rheumatism, does not give any purchaser quick and joyful relief he will return the purchase price without any quibbling or red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease, and anyone who has the slightest taint of it should drive it from the system as soon as possible. Read what Rheuma did for this sufferer: "For five years I suffered with arthritic rheumatism, having bunches on my elbows, feet and wrists. I took everything I could get, with no relief. I saw your ad. and was greatly improved before I had used two bottles, and was cured before I had finished the third. I thank God for Rheuma and that I am free from rheumatism today. If anyone wishes information from me I will write them. I think Rheuma is a miracle."—Mrs. Lucia Ryder, 102 Gilbert street, Syracuse, N. Y.

thing we seek in our efforts to have the kind of hair every woman wishes to have.

It does not matter whether the hair is dark or fair, long or short, curly or straight, every woman who has the patience to gain and keep her health, to give five minutes attention daily to the care of her hair, can have healthy and beautiful hair.

First, the shampoo. Every person's hair is of a different texture and kind. Some hair is coarse, some fine. Other hair is very oily, other very dry, and some is in between. For a person with very oily hair, a shampoo once a week is almost a necessity. For a person with very dry hair six weeks may pass between shampoos. But for the person with a normal amount of oil from two to three weeks is about the right period between shampoos.

The shampoo should be given with soft water, not too warm. After wetting the hair thoroughly, a liquid soap of pure manufacture should be well rubbed into the scalp, which has been well massaged for five minutes. Rinse the hair several times in water each time slightly cooler than the one before. The last water can be cold if the shock is not too great, but few can stand this treatment.

Soft towels should be used to dry the hair. As soon as it is dry enough not to drip, the scalp should be rubbed well, way down the back of the neck. If the hair is slow in drying, fanning is good. Under no circumstances use hot air, nor the heat of a stove. It splits the hair.

Our Boys and Girls

To properly pasteurize milk put a gallon of water over the fire in a clean pan or kettle. When the water is boiling, take the kettle from the fire and allow it to stand on the fire 10 minutes uncovered. Then cut into it the filled and corked nursing bottles and leave them for half an hour, covering the kettle meanwhile with a blanket. At the end of half an hour, remove the bottles and cool them as quickly as possible to 50 degrees and put them where they will keep cool until needed.

When it is time to feed the baby, take out a bottle and set it in a pail of warm water over the fire to heat. After the baby has finished, the bottle should be emptied, rinsed, and filled with cold water. At some convenient hour of the day the mother will wash all of the used bottles with soap and warm water, using a bottle-brush to clean the inside of them. She should then rinse them and boil them in the same pan or bottle in which they were pasteurized.

How Old Are You By Your Hair

You may be thirty in years, but if you are bald-headed, gray, or your hair is dry, brittle, scraggy and ugly-looking, people will surely take you to be many years older.

When your hair becomes faded, dry, streaked and scraggly, when it falls out badly and new hair cannot grow, the roots should be immediately vitalized and properly nourished. To do this quickly, safely and at little expense, there is nothing so effective as Parisian sage (liquid form) which you can get at W. A. Erman's and all good druggists.

It's guaranteed to polish dandruff—stop scalp itch and falling hair and promote a new growth of money refunded. It's in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair so soft, lustrous, easy to arrange attractively and appear heavier than it really is.

A massage with Parisian sage is a real delight—easy to use, not sticky or greasy, and delicately perfumed—an antiseptic liquid free from dangerous ingredients and guaranteed not to color the hair or scalp. If you want good looking hair and plenty of it by all means use Parisian sage—a little attention now insures beautiful hair for years to come.—Advertisement.

Justice Horton's Court.
Constable Charles Moore of Justice Bert O. Horton's court arrested Mary Blanche Baison on an affidavit sworn out by her husband, Thomas R. Baison, alleging that on or about August 18, 1917, the defendant, bearing the name of Mary Blanche Stevens at the time, appeared with him in probate court for the purpose of obtaining a marriage license. Before the deputy clerk, the defendant swore that she had never been married before, which was a falsehood as it was later learned that she had been married to one, James Bell.

Justice Jones' Court.
Phillip Harding was arrested this morning by Constable Ernest Forgrave on an affidavit sworn out by John A. Wisco, charging him with stealing a buggy. Both men are from Bladensburg and the hearing will be held before Justice D. M. Jones on Monday afternoon, May 27, at one o'clock.

Court of Appeals.
In the case of Wesley Bush et al. vs. the Board of County Commissioners, the court of appeals has rendered a decision dismissing the petition and rendering a decree for defendant. William Flory Brown, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown, died at the home of the parents in Granville street at 11:50 Tuesday morning.

The child was born March 22, 1917, and had been ill but since last Friday. Surviving are the parents, and a sister, Virginia Brown. No arrangements have been made for the funeral services.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, O., May 21.—Most of the population of Granville went to Newark last evening, either as spectators or as participants in the monster parade which opened the campaign for Licking county war chest.

Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Biggs, chairman and vice chairman of the Red Cross unit, recruited 36 of the faithful who marched with the county Red Cross workers. The Granville unit, headed by Miss Guckert, motorist, in her new official uniform of military gray serge, with black gloves, puttees and shoes, and displaying on cap and sleeve the insignia of the order, and carrying the Granville banner.

A number of Granville men marched with the several fraternal orders, and Prof. Livingston headed his cadets in their impressive formation. That would have been strenuous work for the average man with a seven-mile "hike" at the end of it, but the boys showed undiminished vim and vigor at the end of the perfect day.

The Junior Red Cross unit of Granville was launched under peculiarly delightful circumstances, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Cleota Collins gave a song recital in the opera-house as a benefit. Managers Austin and Case donating the hall, and school children making a successful advance sale of tickets. Although the social and official calendar is crowded to the limit there was a goodly number of music-lovers in attendance who were enthusiastic in their praise of the talented and talented woman, who is doing her own part for the own race in this county. Miss Collins possessed a voice of wonderful quality which she manages with admirable ease and skill. Her personal charm and beauty enhanced the pleasure enjoyed from the really excellent program presented, and she was forced to respond to several encores. Prof. K. H. Eschman, at the piano, gave the faultless accompaniment which gave the final touch to the most appealing song recital heard here in years. Miss Collins, who is the wife of a lieutenant now fighting with the American forces in France, retains her stage name and bravely goes on with her professional work.

John Aiken, aged 91 years, died at his home in the Newark road this morning at 3 o'clock. Death resulted from complications incident to his advanced years, as he has been failing health for some time. His daughter, Miss Lucy Aiken, was with him at the time of death. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Prof. Frank Ray has gone to Nova Scotia to pass judgment on certain coal lands, where he will remain possibly for the next three weeks.

Theodore Johnson of the engineering department in Denison University, leaves Granville tomorrow for Philadelphia in the interests of Uncle Sam's shipping. He expects to return in the fall.

Judge and Mrs. J. M. Swartz are giving a farewell dinner at 6 o'clock this evening at the home of George F. Street, who leaves for Camp with the next quota of Licking county selectives.

Enoch Johnson's three-piece orchestra, violin, piano and traps, assisted by the Junior Red Cross benefit in the opera-house last evening, and together they drew a large crowd to the home of the selectives for the purpose of raising money for the Baccalaureate service, Sunday evening.

Prof. E. H. Buchanan has removed the class for a community sing this evening at 7 o'clock in the Town Hall. Let everybody come, armed with pencil and paper. Those who think they can't sing are asked to make a boy or girl. Mr. Buchanan will see to the selection of songs and will be in line for the Memorial Day exercises.

MINNESOTA ECHO.
Everyone feels a sense of relief for the "Spring Drive," the examinations, has been completed, we hope have been victorious.

A number from our vicinity attended the Newark township eighth grade commencement. Allie McNeely, Raymond Criss, Joe Parkinson and L. C. Young were present on school in the graduating class. We have organized a V. T. C. Vacation Thrift committee and hope to keep the spirit of thrift alive during the summer vacation. The following officers were chosen: President, Lee Young; vice president, Arla Stewart; secretary, Raymond Criss.

Several of the boys have finished their high school and will have them on exhibit Wednesday when a prize of Thrift Stamp will be awarded for the best.

We have at last the cement walk we have been looking forward to for so long. Many thanks to those who helped us. How much better it would look if our front lawn was seeded.

All His Friends Pleased
For a long time he kept the secret of the wonderful change to restored health and recovery from nervous breakdown, but at last because of the help it might be to his friends he thought it only fair to tell them, and now they are all like him, have "come back" and feel like doing things.

He took Phosphated Iron and it took hold of him immediately, he says he felt better "right off the reel" and you never saw a more thankful and pleased man, he cannot say enough in praise of Phosphated Iron. He says it seemed as if his whole system just craved the Iron. It was absorbed so quickly, the color came back to his cheeks, his step had that old time boy swing and spring, while as for his nerves, the Phosphates got right to work, cleared up the cobwebs and befuddled brain, so he could think better and act quicker, his judgment was right again, he had decided that he lacked for years, no wonder he is a pleased booster of Phosphated Iron.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion. Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

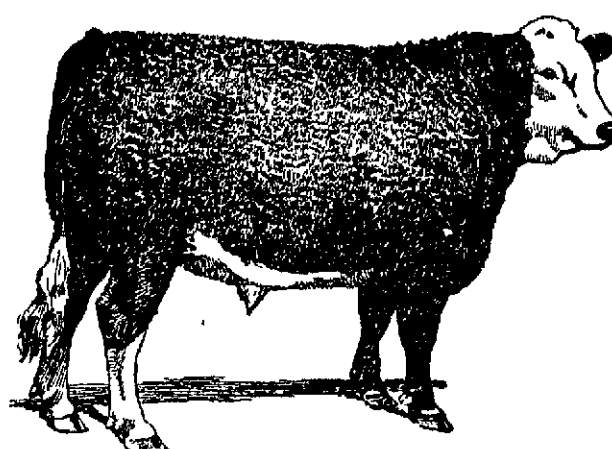

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating, or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as bisulphated magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestions. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

Only About Half the Steer is Beef

Live Weight 1200 pounds

100%

Dressed Weight 672 pounds of Beef

56%

When Swift & Company buys a steer weighing 1200 pounds, only about 672 pounds goes to market as beef; the other 528 pounds consists of hide, fats, other by-products, and waste.

When the packer pays 15 cents a pound for a steer, he sells the meat to the retailer for about 24 cents a pound for the other 528 pounds.

But the packer gets only about 6

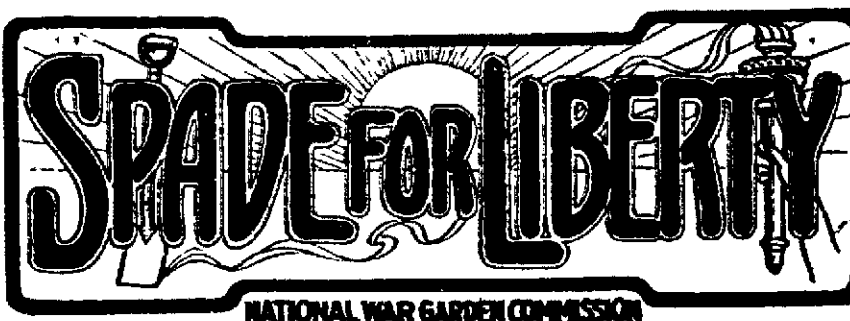

This means that the packer gets about 16 cents a pound for all the products from a steer for which he pays 15 cents.

The difference of 1 cent per pound covers the cost of dressing, preparation of by-products, freight on beef to all parts of the United States, operation of distributing houses, and leaves a net profit of only about 1-4 of a cent per pound on all dressed beef sold.

Large volume of business and utilization of parts that were formerly wasted, make this achievement possible.

The reports tonight are presenting to you statistics on the past year of service given our community by the Associated Charities. In many respects they seem like a repetition of figures published last year. The volume of work grows with the city. Some bad conditions improve and some other problems arise. These same figures, however, demand the serious consideration of thinking citizens.

The public welfare bureau is not a "charity" society in the ordinary acceptance of that term. It does not dole out relief without other purpose than the giving. The giving of money or material relief is the smallest consideration in our work. Whenever "self help" under advice and fraternal assistance, can remedy the need of an applicant, and it is remarkable how frequently this is all that is necessary, no other relief is applied. We aim to permanently correct the troubles of the weak and educate the dormant intelligence of the careless and needlessly poor. Temporary material assistance is the bridge we use to get people over the treacherous waters that threaten to engulf them. We give the strong hand to guide across the footbridge.

We have been faced with the usual conditions involved in social history, of neglected children, physical cruelty, physical neglect, non-support, abandonment, intemperance of parents, and mental defects. Our records show that during the past year the greater number of applicants has been widows with small children whom, because of insufficient wages and sickness of themselves or the children, have been broken by the burden of daily existence. Relief because of unemployment has decreased gradually to where it is almost negligible. We have to help many, however, who because of physical conditions are unemployable. In connection with like organizations in other cities, we are trying to stop the nomadic families of this country, and teach those parents who drag their children from place to place to subsist on charitable relief the error of their way. We have returned a number of such families to their permanent abode.

In many cases of neglect, non-support has been a feature—we say feature rather than cause, as it becomes more and more apparent that non-support is but a symptom of serious social disorder. The significant thing is that in a non-support case there has been a failure to meet a very obvious and urgent social responsibility. We are forced then to realize that our day has become somewhat lax about bearing responsibilities when they are hard. In dealing with non-support cases we feel the need of developing a finer technique which will be used not only in the office and court, but at every point of contact. We must realize that the non-support problem is not solved by prosecution, imprisonment, or routine probation, but that it demands skilled service. We must realize that in this non-support problem we face a social disorder which calls for diagnosis and treatment.

For these people who for generations have lived below normal standards, the great need is not material relief, but working out with them some plan for self help. If you pay a man to work he will work, if you pay a man to beg he will beg. The average man wants a chance, and not charity.

We have been co-operating with the home service department of the Red Cross. We know they have helped us and we trust we may have been of service to them. We realize that the number of families of soldiers and sailors that need, not only material relief but sympathy and wise counsel, will rapidly increase and we earnestly hope to be of real service to them.

Our relations with the King's Daughters, the Salvation Army and other institutions, we are glad to say, are most cordial. It is only by close co-operation we can do really efficient work and avoid duplication. We again beg for the better co-operation with both organizations and private individuals. It is only by thus working together, we can do our best work.

Mr. Edward T. Devine said recently: "It is not an army we must shape and train for war; it is a nation."

This bureau is an instrument with which men and women are accomplishing co-operatively, what they could not hope to do as individuals.

The true idea of democracy is the development of community consciousness. The great task of the social worker is bringing to light the latent forces of the individual with whom he or she is working. Everything that will increase labor power should be fostered; everything that will impair labor power should be checked. The firmness of the worker is quite as important as the fighting man. Constructive social work is based, not upon sentiment but upon sound economics. Backing each man at the guns are five industrial workers. Constant vigilance and co-operation are needed. This is serving the nations war needs. It is also building strong men and women to meet the difficulties of industrial readjustment when the world is recovering from war. The work of this bureau is giving "life more abundantly" to hundreds each year. The broken spirit needs healing more frequently, we are convinced than the body.

Respectfully submitted,
Leontine Moore,
Assistant Secretary.

Report of Public Health Nurse.
Report of the public health nursing service from July 1, 1917, when the work was organized to May 1, 1918:

Number cases under care during July	14

To Associated Charities	24
To county commissioners	10
To human officer	1
To fire marshal	1
To mayor	1
To town council	1
To county infirmary	4
To county commissioners	4
To township trustees	4
To King's Daughters	5
To Sunday school class	1
Total referred to different agencies	70
Home visits made	660
Social service visits made	42
Total number visits made	1002
Largest number cases under care any one month	46
Smallest number cases under care any one month	26
Of the 140 cases under care, 50 were tuberculous, 7 were maternity and 10 were typhoid.

The immediate families of these 50 tuberculous patients includes about 150 persons, 40 of which were children. This does not include the boarders and lodgers in the foreign families for it is impossible to get an accurate number. They average from 1 to 10. All these persons must be kept under supervision in order to detect, if possible, the first symptoms of the disease in any who may have become infected.

All patients admitted to or discharged from tuberculosis sanatoria are reported. In this way I get in touch with some I might not otherwise reach.

When a patient has been admitted to the sanatorium the family is visited and each member urged to be examined and are given instructions how to disinfect the patient's room, bed, and personal linen.

When a patient has been admitted from the sanatorium they are followed into their homes, where necessary, and kept under supervision. Reports of the investigation of these families are sent to the state department of health.

All men rejected by the draft board for tuberculosis are reported to the division of tuberculosis of the state department of health. These men are then referred to the public health nurses, who give any help they can in procuring sanatoria care or the proper home care. Twelve men have been reported from Licking county.

Respectfully submitted,
Viola M. Fell, R. N.

Out of the Trenches for a Breathing Space

Contributed by James Montgomery Flagg

"They Are Our Boys; Get Ready, Everyone, for a Rush!"

The long train of freight cars whined and grumbled as it strove to stop. In the doorway of a great low building a white capped and gowned woman released a sunny smile and, turning so her voice carried into the building, called out, "They are ours; get ready for a rush."

Just how she could tell they were "ours" would be hard to explain, for at the moment she spoke hundreds of the dirtiest, grizzliest men a woman ever saw came fairly tumbling out of the freight cars. A moment more she was welcoming this muddy rabble with a laugh and cheering words.

Inside the building there were more women, all spick and span in white, with faces beaming, handing out good "home cooked" food over spotless tiled counters. Some of the boys fairly ran for the food; others went into the long batteries of baths, throwing out their vermin ridden clothes to be sterilized while they scrubbed their bodies back to a healthy glow.

What luxury it all was—food, tables, chairs, things to read, games to play, paper for writing, a barber shop, a movie theater and good, clean beds!

No one ever thought that these happy, smiling women might be tired, nor were they tired then, even though all day long they had been serving train after train of French and English troops, literally thousands of them. Yet what did that matter? For these boys that came at the end of a long day—these boys are "ours."

If your boy is in France you may be sure he has a song of praise for the fine women at work in the railway canteens of our own Red Cross, for at every important railway junction there is one of our Red Cross canteens and at each canteen there are 18 women—real, true American women.

SPEAKING OF MONEY

Just How the Goodfields—The Stingiest Couple in Town—Helped the Red Cross

By BOOTH TARKINGTON Of the Vigilantes.

"Speaking of money," said my seafaring friend of the Maine coast, "we used to have an old man here named Goodfield. When he was young he used to sing in the church choir—that didn't cost nothin'—and married one of the Emberses, but didn't have only one child, and it died, and time he got to be about sixty-eight years old he'd saved up and was hikin' out his money at about as high a p'cent as anybody. Made it all just tradin' and bein' careful what he spent. 'Careful'! He wouldn't buy himself a pair of britches but once in eight years, and when his old sister that lived with 'em says one day she was bound to see what the inside the pitcher show theater looked like just once before she died, why, old Goodfield and his wife says that was the last straw, and they fixed up and had her hauled off to live on the county. His wife was just the same as him, too."

"Well, along about the middle of the hard winter, three years ago, Goodfield took sick, and his wife told the neighbors they both thought it was a pretty good thing, comin' on him in the cold weather that way, because fuel was so high and a person in bed don't need to use any. They wouldn't hear of callin' in the doctor, and for two or three weeks the neighbors and old friends, most of 'em, was sure he was goin' to die, but then he begun to look so well there didn't hardly seem to be much hope."

Old Goodfield walks in. "He got to goin' out and shamblin' around again, and for awhile there wasn't nobody noticed anything much different. I reckon I was the first, and it come about mighty queer. It was like this: I was workin' in my shack one night pretty late, tryin' to spell out what was the matter with a carburetor I'd brought up from my boat, when there come a tap on the door, and old Goodfield walks in. I was kind o' surprised to see him, but I didn't say nothin' 'cept 'Good evenin', and all of a sudden he says, 'Do you know how much money I'm worth?'"

"He said it just like that—nothin' before it—and I said, 'For the Lord's sake, Mr. Goodfield, what's the matter?'" He looked kind of funny to me.

"I'm worth a hundred and twenty-four thousand three hundred and sixty-three dollars and fifty-one cents," he says.

"Well, by Orry! I says. 'Well, sir, he begun to pant like he'd been runnin' up a hill; he got to heavin' like a winded horse; then he begun to cry and sob like a woman that's all excited when some one's just died. 'Well, by Orry! I says. 'You better set down and quiet yourself,' I says. 'What's the matter?'"

"I got to die," he says. "I been sick," he says. "I been sick and I got to die!"

"Well, I says, 'We all got to die.'"

"He kep' straight on cryin' and pantin' and sobbin'."

"Yes," he says, "but I never knowed I had to! I never knowed it before I was sick. I kind o' thought I wouldn't be here no more, when it come right down to it."

"We're all fixed that way," I says. "We all got to have some sickness we won't get over."

"Well, sir, he let out a yell that just about rose my hair. The rest of you ain't got a hundred and twenty-four thousand three hundred and sixty-three dollars and fifty-one cents!" he boomed. "And I got to die!" he says; and he kep' on kind of shoutin' it. "I got to die! I got to die! I got to die!" And then he pitches over before I could catch him and fell down on a couple o' busted lobster traps.

"The Cap. Whitecomb, he woke up in his shack next door and put on some clo'es and come in, lookin' scared to death. Him and me picked Goodfield up off the traps and got him home, half carryin' him, and him kind of whinperin' and stobberin' right on to when we left him doubled up on a rickety chair at his own house. "Next day he was around, just about the same as ever, and never said nothin' about nothin', and the week after that he took Fred Owens' boat in for a debt, and you couldn't told there was anythin' the matter with him. What I mean, you couldn't told nothin' on him in daytime, but after dark he'd go shamblin' all around the village, and then when it got late, if he see a light somewheres, he'd go in there and have a spell just the same he had with me. Scared people with them spells, he did."

The Last of Goodfield's Money. "Long about September his wife up and surprised everybody, because she went to all the expense of havin' the old man declared insane and hauled off to the asylum. He cut his throat with a piece of broken bottle up there, and the funniest thing happened—they found the old woman dead the same afternoon in their house here. The court gave the estate to a trust company, and I guess that was the end of old Goodfield's hundred and twenty-four thousand three hundred and sixty-three dollars and fifty-one cents."

"Well, sir, you know all that about old Mr. and Mrs. Goodfield made a kind of a sensation, as you might call it, and there was quite a good deal of thinkin' and talkin' about it here in the village. There was some that claimed they figgered out how it all was meant to mean somethin'."

"Anyway, when the call come from Halifax last December we sent off mighty near half a carload of first-rate clothin' right in a few hours, and there was two hundred and seventy odd dollars subscribed just in the village, and you know there wasn't hardly any of us real sure we could see the winter through ourselves."

"Yes, I'll put my name down for the Red Cross, and I'll shell out. I guess you won't have much trouble gettin' subscriptions from the rest, either. We got a good many boys from here over there now, and we wouldn't like to think of 'em shot and layin' out in the fields twisin' around and nobody to tend 'em because us at home hadn't found out yet that it's a mistake to think we're still goin' to have our savin's right nice and with us when we're dead!"

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY FOREVER RIDES YOU OF VILE CATARRH

Katarro Opens up Catarrh Stuffed Nostrils in Three Minutes. Stops Buzzing, Ringing and Singing in Ears and Destroys Deadly Catarrh Germs, Says a Chicago Authority.

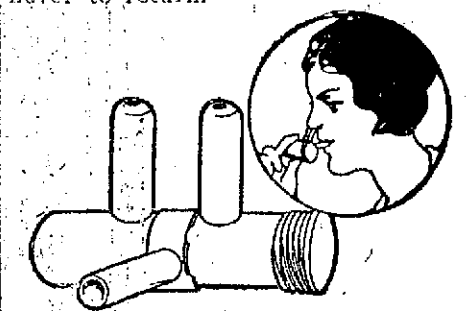

All inflammation in nose, throat and bronchial tubes rapidly disappears, snuffles cease and you can breathe freely through nose again.

It's about time that someone with brains gave to catarrh sufferers a simple, quick and sure remedy that not only soothes and heals the inflamed catarrh soaked membrane, but also promptly destroys the vicious germs that cause this disgusting disease.

The thousands of intelligent readers who have tried in vain to find something that actually will drive away every trace of loathsome catarrh will be glad to know that Katarro can now be procured at T. J. Evans who will be pleased to show you how simple it is with Katarro and the wonderful Blower that goes with it to once and for all conquer catarrh and its stubborn symptoms.

Just notice the picture of the Katarro Blower—the small single tube at the bottom is placed in the mouth, the two upper tubes go into the nostrils, the large tube contains a tiny sponge and gauze freely saturated with Katarro.

Now all you have to do is blow gently, and over the entire sore, germ-infested membrane, away down into the lungs will spread the antiseptic, vaporized, germ-killing air of Katarro reaching every nook, crevice and fold in the membrane as no other remedy can and opening up

THIS PRETTY GIRL WHO DEFIES AGE USES ORDINARY BUTTERMILK TO BEAUTIFY HER COMPLEXION

"It's T. J. Evans and to take anyone's money unless this delightful new vanishing cream quickly shows a distinct improvement in the complexion."

It today at our expense. Buttermilk Cream creates beauty, almost like magic, on the most wonderful thing about it is the fact that, whilst it turns the dull, most lifeless complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines about the mouth, or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

To prove this to your complete satisfaction, get a small quantity today at T. J. Evans with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money to any dissatisfied user.

IMPORTANT—To those who live in outlying sections. The manufacturers, Howard Brothers Chemical Company, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a full sized TRIAL package (one only to each address) mail charges paid, on receipt of 25 cents and dealers name.

"If you and I give all of our time and most of our money to War Relief Work, we are still unworthy to touch the blood-stained garment of the man who goes over the top."—C. W. Whitehair, Y. M. C. A. War-Worker.

SHE HAS GIVEN HER ALL--ARE YOU HELPING TO FILL THE WAR RELIEF CHEST?

Any person who isn't willing to make sacrifices at a time like this -- who isn't willing to back Our Government and our soldiers to the full extent of his or her ability--who isn't glad to contribute to the war relief chest and send money on its errand of comfort and mercy to suffering, wounded American soldiers and starving little children in Europe -- such a person cannot live on free American soil with a clean conscience.

Stories of patriotic sacrifice are coming into War Chest Headquarters every day. Several incidents are on record where a poor mother has given her son--her all --and yet insists on still contributing to the War Relief Chest.

Of the thousands of soldiers who are now in Training Camps and on the battle fronts of France, we ask their lives; of you only money-- money to provide them with recreation, money to keep them from sickness, money to heal their wounds and bring them home.

There is only one way to give to the War Relief Chest--give till you heart says stop. A little contribution is only a salve to pride. For you to give $5 when you can give $25--for you to give $25 when you can give $100, or to give $100 when you can give $500, is to dodge the heaviest obligation that this war has laid upon you. Remember, this is Not a charity --this is a duty.

Only Three More Days

And subscriptions to the War Relief Chest close. This closing will establish a line of discrimination in the people of this community.

Two more days of opportunity to do the sensible thing in war relief contributions; to make a success of a well planned, wisely-worked community effort to help every worthy cause; to show where Newark and Licking county stand.

No solicitor can tell you how much you ought to give. Except this: that "Over There" the need is so great that only by cutting to the quick, only by giving all that you think you can give and then more--only by giving not a little of your excess but much of it, can the needs of the men who are fighting for you be met.

You needn't wait until you are visited. If in the magnitude of this task you should not be seen, it is your duty and should be your pleasure, to send in your share.

	I hereby pledge my patriotism and my devotion to the cause of my country, and my moral support to the objects and aims of The Licking County War Chest, and to that end I make the following subscription: I agree to pay, for the year, commencing July 1st, 1918, to W. W. Gard, Treasurer of the War Chest, or his successor in office, the total sum of Dollars ($.....) per month payable in installments of $..... per month. First installment payable July 1, 1918. War Chest Paragraphs Every dollar will be used for war relief during the year, commencing July 1st--the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. War Work, the Knights of Columbus War Work, the Jewish War Relief and all other such agencies for war work as may be found worthy.

This will be the only campaign for one year; everybody can thus contribute once to all war relief needs, either in a lump sum or by monthly payments.

The "overhead expense" of conducting the War Relief Chest is being paid from a separate fund, already provided, and none of your money will be used for that purpose.

The Executive Committee of the War Relief Chest has pledged itself to conserve and expend the funds judiciously and carefully, meeting in full the patriotic duty of the community but avoiding the waste of promiscuous solicitations and indiscriminate and duplicate giving. They will see to it that every dollar will be used for war needs only.

Attractive Float.
One of the attractive features of the War Chest parade Monday evening was the War Chest float of the Newark Oldsmobile company. The car used was one of the Oldsmobile Chubb Roadsters and was attractive. The car was driven by Mr. J. J. Brown manager of the company. Miss Helen McCullough took the part of the bride and Mr. Benjamin Grant of Camp Sheridan took the part of the groom. O. C. Jones took the part of minister. The attraction proved a very clever one and was favorably commented upon by many who witnessed the parade. 5-21-d-1t

DANCE at Central City, Wednesday evening, May 22. 5-20-d-3t
Elk Day Thursday.
Next Thursday is Elk Day for the war chest drive. Everybody is anticipating a good time and the Elks will see to it that they are not disappointed. There's going to be fun galore, music and pretty girls and something doing every minute. Be prepared to come up town and enjoy yourself for there will be shows, freaks, museum, fortune tellers, refreshment stands and the great Egyptian Sun Wheel. In fact there will be plenty of amusement for everyone.

Turn in Stubs.
Everybody having thrift stamp chance books who have disposed of the tickets, must positively have the stubs book back to Dr. J. T. Lewis by Thursday evening at the latest to insure the names going into the churn, from which they will be taken when the $300 worth of war savings stamps are awarded.

Merchant Marine Service.
Kenneth Hall, at Hall's pharmacy, North Park Place, is the local agent for the United States shipping board of the merchant marine service. He is equipped with literature regarding the requirements for the merchant marine training ship. Any American citizen, native or naturalized, who has reached his twenty-first birthday and not reached his thirtieth, can enlist. Particularly good eyesight and hearing is necessary.

Police Court.
Two cases occupied police court this morning. William Madden of Philadelphia, Pa. was fined $5 and costs on two charges of being drunk and fighting. He was sent to the city prison. Ben Leonard of Alabama was fined $5 and costs and sent to the city prison for train riding.

Over the Top.
The Ohio Electric car barn employees, West Church street, today to a man signed for the war chest fund, making 100 per cent and "going over the top" with a shout. The men are to be congratulated for their patriotic spirit and their example will, no doubt, be emulated by many others.

Birth Announcement.
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vermillion announce the birth of a son, Kenneth Eugene. Mrs. Vermillion was Miss Anna Hutson.

Attending Annual Meeting.
Misses Sara Buckingham and Abbie Metz are attending the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church at Glendale, O. Coast Defense Service.

Karl E. Crilly, 275 Cedar street, will leave tonight at 9:10 o'clock for Fort Dupont, Del., where he will be inducted into the coast defense of the Delaware.

Ready to Sail.
Clyde Farmer of North Fourth street, now a member of the 36th engineers, Company B, has left Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., for the east and will embark soon. Mr. Farmer was formerly traveling dairy and freight agent for the B. & O. railroad company of this city and enlisted with the engineers.

Arrives in France.
Mrs. Katherine Devlin of North Morris street received a cable this morning telling of the safe arrival in France of her son Arthur Devlin. Mr. Devlin recently enlisted in the U. S. military postoffice over seas. He was special delivery clerk at the Newark postoffice for a number of years.

Home From Camp.
Sergt. Major Joseph Gainer. Sergt. Stephan Costello, corporal Horning, and Private Lawrence Legge are home on a twenty-four hour furlough to assist in the war chest campaign.

Truck Overturns.
A motor truck loaded with furniture, belonging to the Cassidy company of another city, overturned east of Newark on the pike yesterday. The machine got too near the edge of the road and went in the ditch. The damage was slight.

Notice to the Public.
For the benefit of the general public and especially for the city. All persons are hereby cautioned against throwing paper, peanut shells, cigar stubs or anything that will mutilate the grass, walks or steps around the court house. The stands are well arranged so that no one will have to tramp the grass. Police in their rounds will kindly aid in the good cause by keeping parties off the grass. By order of Superintendent City Park.

Rotary Club Meeting.
Sergeant Major Holt, Sergeant Webb and Private Harrison, three of the wounded Canadian soldiers who are spending the week in Newark, attended today's meeting of the Rotary club and told of their personal experiences in France. They spoke especially of the great good accomplished by the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. and urged the people of Newark to fill the war chest for the protection of our boys "over there."

To Undergo Examination.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hermann accompanied by the former's son, Paul, left for Columbus this afternoon where the latter will undergo an examination at Grant hospital to determine whether an operation is necessary. Mr. Collins having been ailing for the past several weeks. The trip was made in the McGonagle ambulance. Dr. H. H. Baker accompanied the party.

Two Enlistments.
Two enlistments were received in the naval reserve and one in the regular service by Recruiting Officers G. H. Harris and H. S. Cartwright at their office in the Memorial building. Both officers will be in the city all week and will receive enlistments in all branches of the service, both regular and reserve. The men who enlisted yesterday were A. J. Gaey and H. A. Ferguson as apprentice seamen, second class, naval reserve, and Harold A. Hiatt, 153 South street, apprentice seaman, regular service.

Through a mistake it was stated last night the Canadian soldiers were making their headquarters at the Sherwood hotel, when it should have read Arcade hotel. They are staying at the Arcade and cover speaking engagements each day. Today they were assigned to the various factories and this afternoon one will speak at the Mount street school building.

HUNDREDS OF WREATHS OF FLOWERS DECORATED CASKET OF AM. AVIATOR
With the American Army in France, Monday, May 20.—Before the body of Major Raoul Lufberry was placed in a grave near a certain French village, it lay in state in a room of a small frame building. Around it were hundreds of wreaths of flowers sent by American comrades, French aviators who had known him in the French army and by French army corps.

Atop all the handsome wreaths was a little bunch of wild roses and daisies to which was attached a piece of paper saying that it came from Major Lufberry's orderly and mentioning many kindnesses. With tears in his eyes the orderly came up to the casket and reverently placed the flowers on it.

Confirmation is still lacking to the report that the German airplane responsible for the death of Major Lufberry had been brought down by a French aviator.

According to information obtained from a captured German officer, the published monthly figures of German aerial losses are intended merely for the people at home and for neutrals and are not accepted by German aviators.

As an illustration of the German methods, it is learned that a machine was shot down within the German lines, of which even only parts are salvaged, is not counted as a loss.

The funeral of Lufberry was very impressive. The pallbearers, three American and three French aviators, carried the flag draped coffin from the little frame building to a motor car for the trip to the grave. The procession was led by an American band, a company of American infantry just from the trenches and a company of French infantry. Following the coffin were 200 American and French officers including all of Major Lufberry's companions in the air service, the American general commanding the sector north-west of Toul and a French general commanding an army corps.

The party drew up at the grave and while the service was being read one American aviator after another planned down from the sky, his motor shut off, until he was just overhead. Each threw out great bunches of red roses, which floated down on the coffin and the bare heads of the officers and caps of the soldiers, who were drawn up at attention.

The American general under whom Major Lufberry once served as a private soldier, and the chief of the aerial service also paid homage to the dead aviator.

The firing squad fired three times across the grave, a bugler sounded taps and another bugler, hidden in a nearby wood echoed it. As the sound of the bugles died away all was silent except for the droning of the machines of Major Lufberry's comrades patrolling the line high in the sky and occasionally the dull booming of distant guns.

HOPES FOR RECOVERY.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of The Advocate—I want to thank The Advocate and the people of Newark and Licking county for the bronze medal which I received today. The camp is situated in Chickamauga park, which is a government park, and is 20 miles square. Some of the Civil war battles were fought here and there are numerous Civil war relics, such as cannon, Lookout Tower, and so on. There are hundreds of monuments and state memorials. It certainly is an ideal site for an army camp.

There are 60,000 soldiers here, and they are preparing to raise this number to 100,000, making it the largest camp in the country. The buildings that form the old Fort Ogilthorpe circle are used for the base hospital. The hospital is prepared to take care of 3500 patients. It is a general hospital—that is, they bring patients here from other camps and from abroad. I have been through the different wards, the operating room and the dressing room, taking instructions in first-aid work, bandaging, giving anesthetics, and so on. I am at present working in the dispensary, which is the drug store of the hospital.

Some of the people who had an opportunity and did not give to Y. M. C. A. fund should visit the 36 Y. M. C. A. auditoriums here and see what the association has done and what it means to the soldiers. A

Y. M. C. A. secretary told me that they had spent $600,000 here. This week I had the pleasure of hearing Miss Margaret Wilson, the president's daughter, sing to the soldiers in one of these auditoriums.

Thanking you all again for the medal, I remain, sincerely yours,
Ray Cave,
Evacuation Hospital 14, Camp Greenleaf, Chickamauga Park, Ga.

Following is a letter received by Mrs. Esther Abbott of South Fourth street, from her son, Tod, of Louisville, Ky., formerly of this city, and whose brother Fred, former circulation manager of The Advocate, is now serving in Sousa's naval band:

Dear Mother:—This is Tuesday evening. The weather has been so cold that one has to wear an overcoat nearly all the time here. They say that these English summers are short. The days are long and even now it is past eight o'clock and it is still light enough to see the dim outlines of the hills, which line the coast.

I haven't told you, mother, we've already been to France or rather in the harbor, where we lay for two days before sailing for England. The ship lies in a little bay of its own on the side of a long chain of hills. We reached it Friday afternoon at three o'clock, the first sight of land we had since leaving New York. It was beautiful. The lowlands were covered with patches of spring wheat or barley and clusters of tall pines on the top of the ridges.

As we passed into what seemed to be a mighty river, we got a view of the country-side, all in cultivation and could even see the people working in the fields.

Dozens of ships were laying at anchor unloading their cargoes and it looked not unlike a prosperous coast town in our own U. S. One would never have thought that a war was going on in France to have looked upon this sight. Of course we were many miles from the firing line. Here in England, we are closer to the front than we were there.

We stood on the upper deck of our ship until dusk came and watched the fishing boats manned by French men and the glorious sunset.

Next day we sailed away up the channel for Old England. We passed several old castles including the one Queen Victoria gave to her son Edward, which has been made into a naval training school. The old ship Victory lay in the harbor at Southampton. This was Lord Nelson's flagship, the one he was on at the battle of Trafalgar. Outside the harbor is the place where Drake gave the Spanish Armada one of their smashing defeats.

Look on the map of Europe, mother and you can follow me. We landed and marched through the city to the American rest camp where our canteens were filled. We came to this quaint little village next day. Our training is fine, never felt better in my life. The camp is quite different from the camps back home.

Our company has a street with a row of little houses on both sides like shacks. At one end is the drill field and at the other the guard-house.

By climbing the hills (they call them mountains) we get a good view of the ocean and several deserted castles built by some lords in "Ye olden days."

How is your health, mother? We are all anxious to get into action. There are a couple of thousand English soldiers here in this particular camp, good, friendly fellows. How does the war look from over there, mother? Sometimes I think it will end this year and then again think it will last a long long time.

Our address here is a little different, the O. A. F. which you see on the envelope means "on active service." I'd surely like to meet some fellow over here that I knew back home and maybe I will before its over. I'm so sorry that what I would tell you I cannot. It would be interesting, indeed.

Have you heard from my wife in Louisville, Ky.? How is Fred? Write, write mother, and often. Your son, Sergt. Tod Abbott, War-gret Camp, American Forces, Warham, Dorset Ct., England. April 23, 1918.

YANKEE GIRLS IN PARIS SAY IT'S A GREAT LIFE

Units of telephone girls who have called the sons recently that the American army may hear its "hellos" in real American, have been met everywhere by American women already in France. In Paris, so writes Miss Jean Cavers of Columbus, Ohio, the telephone unit was cared for at the Hotel Petrograd, established by the American Y. W. C. A. for American women war workers.

"This group, 33 of them, constitutes the largest influx of guests received at any one time since the hotel opened. On the whole they seemed a happy lot, although two girls did seem to be discontented. On investigation we learned that one had a room mate who snored and the other had lost her hairpins, neither circumstance annoying in ordinary times but most up-setting at the end of a long trip."

Miss Elizabeth B. Mayston, of Hoboken, N. J., who has gone to France to do clerical work, in her first letter home, writes:

"I shall not soon forget our warm welcome at the door of the Hotel Petrograd."

"At the railroad station we were told at once to hurry. We will surely have a raid tonight. Had a terrible one a short time ago. Several small ones since. Hundred people killed with one bomb. If you hear a siren, run into a place marked A-B-I. This is what they shouted to us as soon as we got off the train."

We have quite acquired the habit of answering anyone who asks our plans for the evening. "Why, I'm going to bed as soon as I finish my dinner, and try to get a few hours sleep before they come over, because the warning alerts, sounding through the streets of Paris says, 'Get up and get out, and get up and get under cover.'"

"Oh, those midnight raid parties with the girls crowding into the vestiare in every costume imaginable! At the first warning 'General' Geary takes command—to be exact, Miss Blanche Geary of New York, manager of the Y. W. C. A. hotel, always fully dressed to the last hairpin—I don't see how she manages it. I believe she never undresses. She is like a general in command. She is everywhere at once, even up to the top floor to make sure that every guest and servant has been awakened. Oh, it's a great life!"

In addition to this picturesque and important phase of Y. W. C. A. war work which has insured the safeguards of the American home to American girls and women in Paris for patriotic service, numerous activities are being conducted by that organization in France.

Among these is the establishment of a number of "foyers" that is, huts for nurses behind the lines, near base hospitals. It is the "home" touch, the creature curtain where it can be achieved, the cushion, the table with a fresh cloth, that go far to freshen the souls as well as the bodies of the Red Cross nurses fortunate enough to be stationed near a "foyer."

"This is the first time I've eaten from a white table cloth since I've been in France," exclaimed one appreciative young woman in a burst of enthusiasm.

AKRON MERCHANT PRAISES TANLAC

If Others Knew What It Had Done
For Him They Would Take It
Too, He Says.

"If all of the other men and women knew what it has done for me I am sure they would not hesitate to get Tanlac at once and take it," said J. M. Fouse, of cor. Fouse Ave. and Dan street, a well-known retired merchant of North Hill, Akron, Friday.

"I contracted catarrh, which dulled my hearing and caused me a lot of annoyance. The catarrh, together with bad nerves, kept me from sleeping much at night. I could only sleep half an hour at a time, and next morning I just had to fight with myself to get up."

"I would feel nauseated, or sick at my stomach, with no desire to eat breakfast. My head was full and I would hawk and cough up catarrhal matter."

"I spent fully six or seven hundred dollars trying to get cured. Nothing I ever used did me any permanent good until I got Tanlac and began taking it. Now I sleep like a top. My stomach feels strong on it. My appetite is keen. I digest and enjoy the biggest kind of a meal."

"The greatest thing of all is that I can actually hear my watch tick. I am a well man, and nothing else ever did it but Tanlac. It's great."

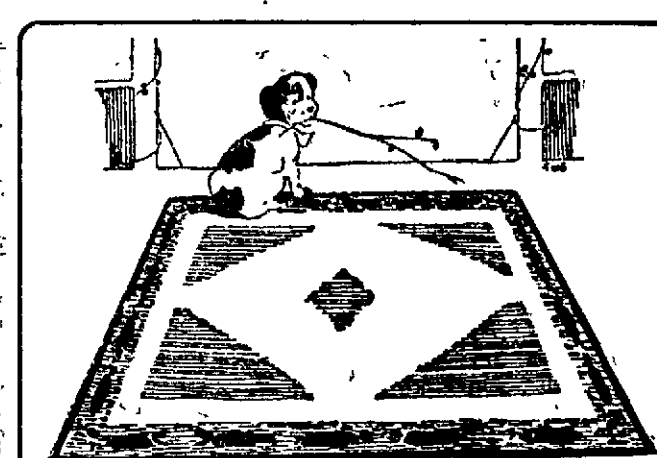

TO RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS.
The new Tanlac Rheumatic Treatment consists of a penetrating liniment for external use, and a tablet designed to drive uric acid from the system. It is the modern method of treating this painful and dangerous ailment. If you are suffering from rheumatism get a treatment today. Tanlac remedies are being introduced in Newark at Erman's Arcade Drug store. Tanlac may also be procured at the Evans pharmacy (Warden Hotel block, east side square, Newark), and the Hebron Drug store, Hebron, O.—(Adv.)

New Records For Your Talking Machine

They say the waltz is coming back. What a wonderful welcome will be given it by one of the Columbia June records which features no less than twelve famous old waltz-songs! Think of gliding over the floor to the strains of "Sweet, Rosie O'Grady," "Annie Rooney," "After the Ball," "My Pearl's a Bowery Girl," and many others of the old favorites mother and dad loves so well, and which are played here in a brand new dress. Prince's Band puts the true waltz feeling into every beat.

One of the snappiest, catchiest, most melodious tunes which has ever floated out over the footlights from that famous pennant-winning battery of Songland, Van & Schenck, is "In the Land O' Yamo Yamo."

the song in which these artists make their Columbia debut this month. On the back is "My Mind's Made Up To Mary, Caroline," and you really can't blame the young man at all when you hear his story so melodiously varbled by this famous vaudeville team.

For a true blue-curing, hilarious song hit everybody along Broadway is humming and singing these days "X Everything." Al Jolson's latest Winter Garden success. It is one of his most notable of the Columbia June records—sung as only Al Jolson can sing a live, up-to-the-minute song.

Straccari the world-famous baritone, who is piling up success after success on the operatic stage, sings for Columbia this month an impassioned air from "Traviata," with astonounding power and exquisite feeling. Every lover of opera will want to hear him in "Di Provenza il Mar il Soul."

There is probably no better known or more thoroughly amusing vaudeville sketch on the American circuit today than Julian Rose's impersonation of "Levinisky." In the June group of Columbia records is the last record of the two which Mr. Rose has made, entitled, "Levinisky At the Wedding." Here is clean, sparkling humor at its best—a laugh in every line. And the last laugh is the best, laugh of all.

A pessimist is a man who turns in an alarm every time he notices the fires of enthusiasm.

New resolutions are generally the same old ones with the rust rubbed off.

CHIROPRACTIC

In the end, one nerve is small, because of pressure on it as it leaves the spine, the organs supplied by it cannot function properly and the patient becomes a chronic sufferer. The chiropractor with his bare hands (no medicines, no surgery) will adjust the spine and remove the pressure. Then, Nature within can send 100 per cent nerve impulse to the organ, and as a result the organ will function properly, and the patient will feel well. If you are ever sick, continue with medicine, doses and drugs if they are doing you no good. Why not be modern? Take Chiropractic. Adjustments, as hundreds of others are doing, right here in Locking county. Try this new way and get well. Chiropractic is a great advance over medicine and already, through comparatively young, numbers its followers by the hundreds of thousands.

Be modern, keep up with the times, stop doped, take Chiropractic Adjustments, and you will soon be a Chiropractic booster.

LOWELL WOMAN HELPLESS IN BED 16 MONTHS

RHEUMATISM SUFFERER FOR SEVEN YEARS

Now Walks, Sees and Does Housework

The following story of what appears to be a remarkable recovery from chronic rheumatism of the joints, after being in pain from the disease for seven years, was voluntarily given for publication by Mrs. L. M. McMaisters of 312 Humphrey St., Lowell, Mass.

"For seven years I have not known a day when I have not been in pain. A little while ago I was afflicted, when I moved my head, I could hear and feel grinding like there was sand or gravel in my neck. My knees were drawn up so I was unable to straighten them. My arms were fastened around my body to get me up stairs. On the top stair I was laid on a rug and dragged to the bed.

"The fingers of the right hand were drawn into the palm and the hand drawn to the body. I could not get my hand to my head. I had to be fed and dressed like a child. One doctor said I would never get rid of the disease, as it was the worst form of rheumatism. I was in bed for sixteen months. I read about Var-ne-sis in a magazine and I decided to try it. After taking Var-ne-sis I could leave my wheel chair, then my crutches and at last my cane. The chafy bunches of the fingers and the knees went away. My hands straightened and I could walk down stairs step by step, saw a little and do some housework.

Rheumatic sufferers should know fully about this case and we will forward this complete story and others free.

Send to W. A. VAR-NE-SIS, 257 HAMILTON AVENUE, LYNN, MASS., for Var-ne-sis, or get it from any reliable druggist.

VAR-NE-SIS
Conquers Rheumatism.

A SHAMPOO WORTH TRYING

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

PATRIOTIC PARADE LAST NIGHT WAS GREATEST EVER HELD IN NEWARK

several floats were arranged by them.

Excellent marching order prevailed and the parade in order to straighten it out, marched to Eleventh street. Many of the organizations carried huge flags and one had many pieces of money thrown on it, donations to the war fund.

The patriotic organizations made a splendid showing, the D. A. R. had a float and the Daughters of Veterans, Old Guard, Women's Relief Corps, Boy Scouts, and Denison cadets. The Y. M. C. A. got a big hand on the "Spirit of '76" and the spirit of '18 was also loudly applauded. It showed a Y. M. C. A. but as used in the local camps.

A complete hospital tent, with all the equipment, and with Red Cross nurses and patients was arranged by August Hess.

As the big parade, led by Governor Cox and his party and the city and county officials came to the east side of the square the governor took his place on the reviewing stand, the balcony of the Hotel Warden. With him were the Canadian soldiers and the members of the executive committee of the war chest campaign. As the various organizations passed in review, they sang national airs, waved and saluted the governor.

It took the parade just an hour and a half to pass before the reviewing stand.

Immediately as the last of the parade passed before the stand, the governor and his party went to the platform on the south side of the court house, where he was joined by Mrs. Cox and her secretary who had had dinner at the Country club. Senator J. H. Miller, who introduced the governor, stated that it was the greatest event in the history of Newark. That the county had never been so thoroughly aroused and never so united in any cause and then he introduced the governor.

Governor Cox precluded his address by commenting upon the tremendous turnout and explained that it broke a record, which until that time had been held on July 22, 1878, at the time of the great reunion on the anniversary of the battle of Atlanta.

"I have been proud and happy all of today, as I visited several communities in Licking county. You are to be congratulated in this county, you have exceeded your quotas in all your obligations. Every political subdivision has gone 'over the top.' You are to be more than felicitated for the patriotism which is manifested.

"On behalf of the state, as governor, I congratulate you. If the great commonwealth of Ohio is not to be on fire at this time, the magazine of the war spirit must be kept away from the torch of Licking county's enthusiasm.

"Licking county has responded with her sons, with the strength of her resources, and she will help to bring the war to a victorious conclusion. The pageant tonight was a wonderful manifestation of the emotions. Factory joins the farm taxing its capacity in order that Licking county may properly participate. Splendid women are forged together, in spite of religion, race or class in the tasks of the Red-Cross. Business men are joining with the men of the shops to the successful conclusion of the war.

"The boys and the girls are united in their strength to bring about conservation, in the purchase of thrift stamps, and with the enthusiasm of their youth are tied in affection to the soldiers at the front. America's spirit is unconquerable—we are going to win and we are going to win right.

"In 1914 the torch was applied to the magazine of war by the German war lords. It was a conspiracy to restrain the international civilization of the world, and for the supremacy of the sea and the subjugation of the earth. They had their wonderful military system, while England had an expeditionary force of only 100,000 men, and the great army of France was unmobilized, her soldiers being occupied in the pursuits of peace. Germany violated international compacts. Her brutal attempts were aimed at our government and at YOU. The Huns were stopped at Verdun, and the Huns will be stopped again.

"I bring you a message of reassur-

LET YOUR CONSCIENCE BE YOUR GUIDE

Below is the form of pledge that the workers on the War Chest teams will present to you for your share in aiding the boys "over there." You know what you ought to give. Your conscience will tell you just how much it is your duty to subscribe to Licking county's quota for the war needs for the coming year. Give every cent you can and then double your gift. Give until it hurts. Your contribution in money toward winning this great struggle is nothing in comparison to the sacrifice the men in the trenches are making each hour. Sacrifice something—give up the things you like, that your share in the $360,000 War Chest for the county will be a real gift to our fighting men.

Here is the pledge. Look it over. Let your conscience be your guide in making your gift.

THE LICKING COUNTY WAR CHEST.

Newark, Ohio.

I hereby pledge my patriotism and my devotion to the cause of my country, and my moral support to the objects and aims of The Licking County War Chest, and to that end I make the following subscription:

I agree to pay, for the year, commencing July 1st, 1918, to W. W. Gard, Treasurer of the War Chest, or his successor in office, the total sum of $..... Dollars ($.....), payable in installments of $..... per month. First installment payable July 1, 1918.

I authorize the Executive Committee of the War Chest to expend my subscription for such war needs as to them seem best.

ance. Ohio has been subjected to a test, a great test, but she has proven herself. She is made up of many nationalities, many of them are German born, but the majority of these are loyal Americans. Don't subject a man to criticism because he bears a German name. The disloyal Germans in the state are in the minority. And these we have under such close surveillance that they dare not give us trouble.

"We will learn great lessons of great sacrifices in this war. There will be great compensations, however. The soul of the nation is stirred, and it has not been stirred for 100 years. One compensation of the war is that America will come out of this a nation. America will continue to be as hospitable as she has been in the past, and those who come here will be welcome, but after they are here a while the most of them will be American citizens after a sufficient time has elapsed or they must return to the country from whence they came. America will be a nation, not a boarding house."

The governor then turned and said: "I have a message for you labor organizations. If you have any man in your order who is not an American citizen expel him tomorrow morning. If he is unloyal to your flag you cannot trust him."

The governor spoke of our debt to France and related how he had told them at one time we needed many things and did not worry for they would come to our aid and did. Now the governor said they were needing many things but were not worrying for they knew we would come to their aid. He touched on Russia, stating, that when we demanded justice in our settlement with Germany, we must demand it for Russia as well, for if Germany gave back Alsace Lorraine and Belgium, but retained Russia she would have control of one sixth of all the land on this planet. He then told of several stories of the trenches and after again congratulating the people of the county for their spirit in the past and their spirit shown in the demonstration, told them goodnight. The meeting closed with three cheers for the governor.

WAR WORKERS' MEETING.

A meeting and dinner of the war council was held last night at 6 o'clock at the Masonic Temple for final instructions before the big drive for the war chest, which started this morning at 9 o'clock. The council in addition to the regular eight teams, is composed of 21 other teams representing various industrial institutions of the city. The meeting was opened by an invocation by Rev. Geo. Bohon Schmitt, followed by a splendid dinner.

Immediately after the dinner, Chairman E. C. Wright gave some short instructions on the campaign, and then introduced the honor-speaker of the evening—Governor James M. Cox. The governor had spent the day speaking throughout the county and in substance said he had spent a happy day in Licking county, and had seen the joy and spirit of the citizens of the county. He had no disposition to please the senses of the county and would say nothing which he was not justified in saying. The organization of Licking county is an inspiration to build up the morale of the state and such an organization as this should be had in every county of the state. Up to this time very few counties have organized, although they have their local Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and other organizations no effort has been made to organize all relief such as has been done in this city and county. Work by suggestion is going on over the state to complete the organization of all the counties of the state, but no suggestion will be made to Licking county as the organization is complete in every detail.

In regard to the end of the war, the governor stated that there could be only one end, and that no one should have any misgivings as to it—the civilization of the world standing as one front, and barbarity and beastliness opposed to it. Many compensations are gained from the war and the people can see in a way why God has not taken us into His confidence. Of the many fraternalities before the conflict they have all been absorbed by one fraternity—the fraternity of Americanism.

Governor Cox touched lightly on the aircraft investigation, and said that he had much confidence in what one man—a man from Licking county—Col. E. A. Deeds—said, that production would answer all questions to the investigation. The governor predicted that within the near future an American aeroplane, sailed by three American flyers, would fly from Newfoundland to Ireland, and also that the German navy at Essen would be given a baptism not in the Kaiser's ritual.

In conclusion, Governor Cox said that the United States was going to continue what we are doing and to fight it out. We went to war for a principle and will not make a compromise with that same principle.

John Sachs, 324th H. F. A. Camp Sherman, was present, and in behalf of the war-workers, Chairman Wright extended greetings to him.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM WILL BE IN CHARGE OF K. OF C. ORDER

Plans are completed to make tonight another banner night in the war chest week, and an excellent program has been prepared.

The program is under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, and the club members will meet in the club rooms at 7:30 o'clock, headed by the Buckeye band and a parade will be given.

An address will be given at 8 o'clock on the south side of the courthouse by Judge Maurice H. Donahue, of the supreme court of Ohio. The Knights have prepared a number of stunts on their program which will be kept as a surprise for the crowds this evening.

Every night there will be something doing and tonight promises to keep the ball rolling and to maintain the interest of the people.

STATEMENT FROM FRENCH WAR OFFICE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, May 20.—The official statement from the war office tonight reads:

"There was no infantry activity. The artillery bombardment was violent at times south of the Avre and at several points in the region of Montdidier and Lassigny.

"Army of the east, May 19, there was reciprocal artillery firing in the region of Dorian. There was intermittent artillery and rifle firing on the Serbian front where enemy patrols were repulsed before they were able to reach the wire entanglements. In the Cerna bend and the region of Monastir the artillery and trench mortars were active. Near Monastir enemy patrols were driven back. In the Pgrade sector the enemy artillery fire increased.

"The British aviators successfully bombarded enemy establishments in the region of Demirhisar."

FIRST TO DONATE TO THE WAR CHEST

One of the handsomest floats in the parade last evening was that of Charles Duerr, Arcade florist. He had a big machine covered with roses in which rode a half dozen handsome maidens, and after the parade the girls sold the flowers on the streets and this morning, Mr. Duerr's charming daughters—Misses June and Myrtle—had the honor of contributing the first money to the war chest, turning over $41.28 to Treasurer W. W. Gard at the Park National bank, and receiving the first receipt for funds given to the war chest, and which they collected from their sale of roses.

WAR CHEST NOTES.

A large American flag was carried by a delegation from the 800 American Bottle employees, who were in line. People along the line of march tossed coins upon the flag and the total received was $63.73.

The Kaiser ball-throwing stunt netted $81 the first night, and it was late before the ball game was started.

CAMP SHERMAN NOTES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, May 21.—The first triple barrage attempted by National army soldiers will be laid down on the artillery range here tomorrow in the presence of Major General E. F. Glenn and other high officers of the 83rd Division. Colonel T. Q. Ashburn, commanding the 158th Field Artillery brigade, and the 324th Heavy Field Artillery regiment will supervise the firing.

Batteries of the 322nd and the 323rd Light Field Artilleries and the 324th Heavy Artillery will fire three inch American field pieces, British "seventy fives," and 4.7 inch howitzers respectively. It was originally planned to include 2.9 five-inch mountain howitzers in the firing, but ammunition for this type failed to arrive.

To Cleveland officers will go the honor of commanding the three batteries which will lay down the barrage. First Lieutenant George V. Hess, will command Battery F, 324th artillery; Captain John B. Dempsey, of Battery F, of the 323rd light and First Lieutenant Frank E. House, of Battery D, 322nd light, will be in charge of their respective units.

Batteries E and F, 324th Heavy Field Artillery, are scheduled to finish their target work Saturday. Every artilleryman in the division will then have had range experience, which is believed to be a National army record.

Machine gunners have had to practice dying in the last few days. As fast as one man drops "dead," another jumps into his place, in simulation of battle conditions. The arrival of a six inch trench mortar now being made in Columbus, is being awaited by the 308th trench mortar battery. Captain Don R. McGill, of Columbus is the battery commandant. When these men arrived last fall there was no ordnance for them. The captain and his men, undaunted, set to work to have their own constructed. These 3 inch battery they have been using has been turned over to the trench mortar sections of the infantry regiments.

enjoy myself again since
Resinol
cleared my skin

When my complexion was red, rough and pimply, I was so ashamed that I never had any fun. I imagined that people avoided me—perhaps they did! But the regular use of Resinol Soap—with a little Resinol Ointment just at first—has given me back my clear, healthy skin. I wish you'd try it!

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsumed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsumed coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

You had better stop at once or you'll lose your job. Every line of business is closing its doors to "Drinking" men. It may be your turn next. By the aid of ORRINE thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and industry. We are so sure that ORRINE will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

When you stop "Drinking," think of the money you'll save; besides, sober men are worth more to their employers and get higher wages.

Costs only $1.00 a box. We have an interesting booklet about ORRINE that we are giving away free on request. Call at our store and talk it over.

FIRE SQUAD CAR RECEIVED IS IN SERVICE

The new squad car for the Central Fire Department arrived in time yesterday to be used in the parade last evening and carried city officials as its load in the parade. The new wagon is a much needed addition to the department as it means economy to the city and as well as an added force to quick moves to the fire. The wagon will be used to carry the firemen from that department to all calls from the departments away from the center of the city, instead of making it necessary to run the big truck with its heavy equipment and costly operation. The wagon is equipped with two 3-gallon chemical extinguishers and one 25 gallon extinguisher, an extension ladder and 150 feet of chemical hose, with carrying capacity of 600 feet of regular fire hose. It is practically the first call wagon and its comparatively cheap upkeep and inexpensive operation spells economy. It is a Hudson Super-six chassis, furnished by the Standard Motor Company of Columbus and equipped with the fire fighting apparatus by the Segrave Company, also of that city. It was put into service yesterday on trial trips over the various streets of the city, under the careful driving of Mr. Travis, representing the Standard Company and it took all the bad hills and rough roads as well as the smooth brick and asphalt with an ease that was marvelous. The engine picks up speed with remarkable avidity and is as capable of going at a snail's pace if necessary. It took the cemetery hill south of the city at about a 48-mile gait then later dragged its way along South Fifth street in the shade so slowly almost that it seemed as though it was following the sun in its course and trying to keep up with the shade. Completely fitted it cost $2,300 and is a good purchase.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Mr. George Hermann, the clothier, as treasurer of the Ohio Retail Clothiers and Furnishers Association, was given authority by the directors yesterday to buy 200 War Savings Stamps and thus make the association a member of the $1,000 War Savings Society. Mr. Hermann bought the stamps in Newark, thereby giving credit for the sale to Licking county. The first day of every month these stamps increase in value $2 and the association should it need the money, can get back all that was paid for the stamps ($832) plus interest at the rate of $2 for every month the stamps are held.

The Newark school boys and girls 3397 out of an enrollment of 4,000, have bought $36,470.25 worth of War Savings Stamps. Last week the school purchases were $1160.25. Twenty-eight Newark schools have a 100 per cent record. That means that every child in each of the 28 schools is a purchaser of War Savings Stamps.

Mrs. Louise Wood of Hanover, is a new member of the Licking County $1,000 War Savings Society making the 176th member of this patriotic organization. Every purchaser of 200 War Savings stamps, the May price of which is $832 is entitled to a certificate of membership. Two hundred W. S. S. grow in value at the rate of $2 every month until Jan. 1, 1923, when they are worth $1,000. They are not taxable and may be cashed at any time upon ten days notice without the loss of either principal or interest.

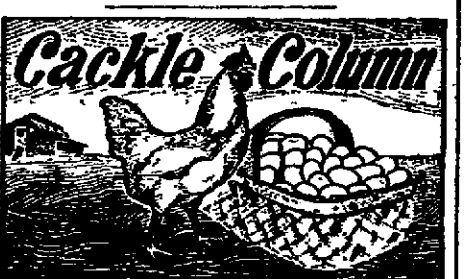

NOTED DRIVERS TO COMPETE AT COLUMBUS MEET

Right now is the proper time for decision-making on the question of attending the auto race meet, to be given at the Columbus Driving Park's track May 26 or Sunday next. Ten or eleven drivers will compete, the world-famous Arthur Chevrolet, renowned Fred Goetz, driving George Clark, Sig Huggah, Jules Ellingboe and "Wild Bob Cline," an Ohioan and native of Columbus, being among them.

It looks very much as if farm tractors will be raced over the so-called and bumpy infield at the track. There'll be an exhibition of some sort by the tractors and the climax of their part of the entertainment likely will be the Columbus steeplechase.

To the winner of the principal auto race, there will be handed a War Savings Stamp that eventually will be worth to him $1,000. All the drivers understand that such an investment is one of the very best possible. During the afternoon, every spectator will have an opportunity to invest as he pleases in Thrift Stamps.

Not in the least will prices of admission be raised. Tickets will be quoted at 55 cents, the added 5 cents being to cover the government's war tax that everyone is proud to pay. Gates to the track will be open at noon. The program will be started at half past two.

GREEN FOOD FOR POULTRY.

(By G. E. Conkey.)

Every time you hear a successful poultry raiser discuss the question of feeds you'll hear him emphasize the need of greens to keep poultry healthy and to keep them producing. It is not that green foods are high in nutritive value, but they are very succulent and so are extremely important in helping the digestion of the foods that produce eggs and meat. You can see proof of this in the great increase of eggs you get from your flock shortly after the grass begins to get green in the spring.

In spring and summer, when your birds are out, they can get plenty of green food. If they are confined, give them leafy garden crops like lettuce, rape, swiss chard, kale, spinach, cabbage or beet leaves.

Make free use of your fresh lawn clippings, but don't use clippings which have been piled up and allowed to heat or ferment, or your birds will have digestive troubles. In feeding grass to chicks, cut it into short lengths or it will stuff up the crop. By the way, this is why closely confined chicks should not be given a litter of long grass, for they will eat this for want of better green food and will die due to this fibrous mass collecting in the intestines.

Early brooder chicks should be given lettuce which is a very succulent food. The older birds will like it too. Rape that has been planted in fall is another good green food for early spring hatches. Used in small quantities, especially in feeding chicks, onions are highly recommended for they are not only a good green food but are also considered a tonic for poultry. Be careful, however, not to feed onion continuously and liberally to the old birds or you will impart an odor to both fish and eggs.

Raw potatoes come under the head of succulent greens and should be used when the price admits. It is not good as a green food when cooked, as the nature of the potato changes in cooking, and it has a tendency to fatten.

"Be Frugal and You Will Be Free"

[F Benjamin Franklin lived today with America at War, his message to the Americans of today would be his words of advice to the people of his own time—"Be Frugal and you will be Free."

Franklin knew that only by the practice of thrift, only by adhering to rigid economy in every-day living, could the individual throw off the shackles that bind one to Poverty and Slavery. He knew, too, that a nation of individuals can only maintain Freedom by practicing Saving as a national habit.

It is the urgent duty of every American to "Weigh every small expense, and nothing waste"—to reduce his personal consumption of labor and materials, in order that the Nation may have them to provide the ships and shells, food and fuel now urgently needed in the fight for America's Freedom.

Our duty is to work, save and invest our savings with the Government in Liberty Bonds and

SALES MANAGEMENT.

In the up-to-date corporation the sales manager is prominent. His salary is one of the biggest paid in the whole concern. Sales management has grown into a science.

It is not enough for the corporation to turn out an excellent article at a fair price. There has got to be a far-reaching campaign to bring the merits of the article to the trade. Otherwise everything that has been done to systematize production and perfect processes proves only to be a failure.

Prospective customers judge of the merits of an article largely by the energy and skill of the sales manager. The goods may seem all right. Yet if they are not being pushed with an energy and determination, the trade would think the concern no good. It would show such an evident lack in one of the vitals of organization that the trade would say it was suffering from dry-rot. Its merchandise would not be given credit for the merits it possessed.

These principles apply equally to retail trade. The ordinary store cannot afford a costly sales manager. But it must have its sales management policy and program just the same. The proprietor has to lay out some plan for getting the public attention. If he doesn't the public will conclude that his business lacks the enterprise essential to success, and that his offerings are not worth attention.

He has got to attract public interest in some way, or go to the wall. Nothing attracts public attention by a policy of silence and waiting. There are only three ways of doing it: sending around salesmen to solicit from door-to-door, printed circulars, and newspaper advertising. The last-named is by far the least expensive, and it is the most effective.

Miss Theda Bara has gone in with characteristic earnestness for literature and jots down ideas for the play she is writing as they occur to her, and we wonder where she carries her fountain pen when not in use, without marring the lines of her figure.—Ohio State Journal.

She must make only mental notes. By the way, Bob, some of the girls over here call her Thredabare, and it's not because they don't know better, either.

The men are taking hold to help make surgical dressings in many places, and several casualties are reported among those that attempt to handle their wives' sharp scissors.

The German people are perfectly satisfied that the Kaiser did not end up the war in two months as he agreed, as he has promised to end it in two or three more.

The people who won't contribute to the war chest might like it to be lying wounded out in No Man's Land, with no stretcher-bearers to pick them up.

Six million dollars in six days for the Cleveland war chest. That is the task which Clevelanders yesterday set out to accomplish. They'll do it, of course.

While the conservators are about it they might save all that broad expanse of four-in-hand necktie that is so carefully concealed under the vest.

It is denied that there is no place for pacifists in this country, as the insane asylums are a thoroughly appropriate place for them.

DECLINE OF IMMIGRATION.

Surprising figures of the decline in immigration are given out by the government. In 1914, exactly 1,218,480 immigrants came in. In 1916 there were only 298,826. For the last three months of 1917 the number averaged only a little over 7000 a month.

So the tide of strong and willing hands from old Europe, which once ran about 100,000 a month, has fallen to two large shiploads. In our own country the tendency of all native elements is towards haying small families of children. We are not raising workers enough to build our highways and railroads, and do the rough work of the community.

Owing to this shortage we must expect very high prices for labor while the war lasts.

Many observers argue that immigration cannot be expected to return to normal figures for some years after the war closes. There will be plenty of work done in Europe in reconstruction of devastated sections. Our aliens who have relatives living in the old country will go back to see how the old folks have fared. From this point of view the eastward tide from our shores may about equal the newcomers.

On the other hand, Europe faces terribly heavy taxes. The interest on the national debts will far exceed the previous entire expenditures of the warring governments. The allurements to the young to get out from under all that crushing burden will be powerful. Also, they will fear that another war may come and call for a repetition of their countless sacrifices.

Everything considered, the latter argument looks stronger. It will be strange if the signing of peace does not result in an exodus from conditions so depressing and ominous.

The Germans being such good singers, they can try their hand on "They'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" when the Americans get ready to make a real offensive.

The fact that a man wouldn't go into the trenches for $10,000, does not prove that he will come across with $10 to help pick up the fellow who has to go there.

PRESIDENT FOR SUFFRAGE.

(Ohio State Journal.)
It is reported from Washington that President Wilson will do what he can to secure by Congress the adoption of the woman suffrage amendment. Again we burrah for the president. We hope the Ohio senators will follow him in this grand step. We are sharpening our pencils to give this action our most resounding approval. Now is the time to settle this question and get it out of the way, and help us to prepare for the solution of the profounder problems to come. This is the day for patriotic action and what so fine as standing by the women who are doing so much for the boys on the fighting line? It does seem that a person who is for the women to be for the women to come, Brothers Harding and Pomeroy, and too the mark and lay up for yourselves treasures in the hearts of the women. Come on, Senators, we love you too much to have you flicker now.

THE CALM BEFORE THE STORM.

(Philadelphia Record.)

Those who are supposed to know are telling us that Germany is planning a grand attack in three zones—the western front, Italy and the North Sea. And we are assured that this is the calm before the storm. Passing over the mental condition of the fighters facing each other on land, there can be no question as to the location of the preponderance of confident calm in the ranks of the opposing sea-fighters. Zeebrugge and Ostend, even if those two port-fortresses have been less successful than British reports declare, have surely had the effect of making the Germans "jumpy." Add to this the growing impatience of the German people for some news to be proud of from the long-idle Imperial fleet, and we have a mental picture of a thick-necked sailorman between the devil and the deep sea.

The Germans have had reason to rejoice over some exploits of their armies, and they have been led to believe that The Drice will still go through, although little more has been accomplished than the pushing back of all the rearranged and much advertised dates of accomplishment. But beyond the skulking ravages of the U-boats and a few scattered and really dashing exploits of raiders in the early years of the war, the sea has yielded them no comfort. They have tested the temper of Britain's channel fleets and have limped back to safe harbor, from which they have not since cared to venture. Britain's fleets are still waiting, dogged, determined and ever watchful; and with them now are the battle-ships and destroyers of a nation whose fighters have never been defeated in any war since the days of saucy Jack Barry and the peerless John Paul Jones. The Germans laughed at the thought of American troops opposing them in the trenches of France. They have tested the steel of those troops, and have changed their tune. That tune is destined to grow yet more doleful. There are half a million American soldiers facing the Teuton hordes, and more are coming; and the safe arrival of all of them without casualty, save the single instance of the Tuscania, has been due to the masterful convoying of that splendid navy whose colors have never yet been trailed in the sea.

Let the three-fold attack come, for if this is the calm before the storm we know where that calm most typifies confidence.

AIRPLANE MAIL SERVICE.

(Washington Post.)

The institution of an airplane mail service between Washington and New York marks an important epoch in aeronautics. Despite the assurances given by the postoffice department, the introduction of this service must be regarded in the light of an experiment until it has been in operation long enough to prove its practicability. But it is well worth trying out, and if the hopes of its sponsors are realized there is no reason why it cannot be adapted to general use throughout the country. Letters and packages, the latter not to exceed two pounds in weight, will be transported at the rate of 24 cents an ounce. A regular schedule of train connections at various points has been worked out and special delivery at terminals is provided for. Against the possibility of breakdowns, relief airplanes have been stationed at the terminals and in Philadelphia. It is stated that it now requires from six to seven hours to transport mail from Washington to New York, including the delivery at the postoffice, while by the airplane service the time will not exceed three and one-half hours, including thirty minutes from the landing field to the New York postoffice.

Eighty years of postal improvements have witnessed a reduction in the time of delivery of mail between New York and Washington from thirty-two hours by stage coach, railroad and steamboat combined to three hours by airplane. This constitutes a wonderful record, but it is the innovation now introduced which proves successful the time may be still further reduced. And soon airplane mail routes may be in operation between all the great cities of the country, with the possibility of overseas service always looming ahead.

Washington was the scene of the first practical demonstration of the heavier-than-air flying machines when the Wright brothers made their successful flights at Fort Myer a few years ago. Allowing full credit to Langley for the discovery of the vital principles of sustained flight and giving all honor to the pioneers whose work contributed to the science of aeronautics, it is generally regarded that the Wright brothers' demonstration here in 1907 marked the beginning of airplane navigation. With this record it is entirely fitting that Washington should be one of the starting points for the first aerial mail service, just as it was one of the terminals in Morse's first telegraphic experiments. The success of the airplane mail service would not be more remarkable than the telegraph.

Labor in England and Here.

British labor decided early in the war that it would engage in no strikes during the continuation of the war. It decided to submit all labor disputes to arbitration. That patriotic example should be followed by workmen and employees in every part of the United States. There should be no strikes while the war is on. Disputes should be settled by mutual agreement where that is possible. If no agreement can be reached, then the matters of difference should be referred to arbitration. In no case should there be a cessation of labor. Every man in every form of industry should keep at work and do his best. The war is not to be won by striking. Nor can an American help win the war in which his country is engaged by ceasing from labor.—Anaconda Standard.

Gen. Pershing's Command.

Unity of command on the western front will be still further illustrated when the brigading of American troops with French and British is so completely accomplished that the Americans will constitute a majority in some divisions, which will then be turned over to the command of General Pershing. The sooner he can be placed on even terms with General Haig and General Petain the better for all concerned. General Foch will then have British, French, American and Italians acting in perfect harmony under him. The danger of divided councils will be avoided, and the whole force will work together in friendly rivalry. What is quite as important, the American fighting strength will be rapidly increased by contact with seasoned troops.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The ship designed to be unsinkable is said to have left the convoy and deliberately challenged the submarines to do their worst. Neither going nor returning could it draw a torpedo. Is it possible that the Germans are unwilling to help us find out whether it is unsinkable?—Buffalo Enquirer.

THE EMBLEM OF HUMAN MERCY

By SAMUEL GOMPERS

The Red Cross is an emblem typifying human mercy and sympathy. Its mission to relieve physical pain and minister to mind and body has given it a place deep in the hearts of all our people. For those whose dear ones are in places of great danger it is a comfort to know that the American Red Cross is performing more effective service on a larger scale than ever before.

In addition to serving our enlisted forces, it is assisting in the work of civil relief among our allies whose soil is being devastated by the fighting.

Thus the Red Cross is helping to interpret the constructive spirit of our Republic which holds sacred human life and the ideals it seeks.

As time goes on the scope of the work of the Red Cross in Europe will increase in order that the organization may meet the demands that will be made upon it. It must receive the full and hearty support of the American people. It is only through such an agency that we can be assured relief and necessary ministrations to our young men forming our military force.

It is my sincere desire that adequate funds will be secured for the work of the Red Cross.

Samuel Gompers

NUX IRON PEPSIN AND

SARSAPARILLA—Effective Spring Medicine in Combination.

As comprised in Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepsin, taken in conjunction, these valuable remedies possess unqualified value for the quick relief of a long train of ailments common in the spring season. You know well the great one properties of iron. They are much increased and improved in this combination—Hood's Sarsaparilla before meals and Pepsin after.

In these days of rushing and pushing, beyond the endurance of even the most robust, nearly every man and woman needs this blood-purifying, cleansing, up-building in the Spring. If it is not supplied, the depletion of the blood and the broken-down nerves may soon give way to permanent ill-health.

If a cathartic is needed, as where there is biliousness or constipation, Hood's Pills should be taken. They are purely vegetable, do not irritate.

INQUISITOR HUGHES.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

The president's selection of former Justice Hughes to help conduct the investigation of aircraft production by the department of justice insures exactly the searching, relentless pursuit of truth which the public desires. Incidentally it is a master stroke of political strategy.

By a single act Mr. Wilson gives first place in the popular mind to the department investigation, dwarfing the importance of whatever inquiry congress may choose to make; and bids his Republican critics go ahead and make good on their charges of Democratic inefficiency in this particular branch of war making. It is to the president's credit that he should pick so eminent and well qualified a political opponent for such a task. It is no less creditable to Mr. Hughes that he is willing to undertake the task.

There is probably no more capable solver of complex organization riddles than the former justice of the federal supreme court. His service in the New York insurance investigation is part of our industrial history. He is fearless, painstaking and conscientious. If there is graft or inefficiency lurking in the mazes of the aircraft complication they will have no chance of escaping detection when Mr. Hughes turns his searchlight in their direction.

In connection with the Hughes appointment and the forthcoming department of justice inquiry into aircraft production it is worth while quoting what the Scientific American, an unquestioned authority, has to say about one branch of such production:

Speaking from first-hand knowledge after a personal investigation by members of our staff conducted at Washington and Detroit, we are in a position to say, first that the Liberty motor, as it stands today, is a distinct success; secondly, that the production in quantity has commenced and is proceeding at an accelerating rate; thirdly that these motors as turned out by quantity-production methods are standing up to government tests * * * and, lastly, that not only will our aviation service possess the lightest motor for its power but a more powerful motor than any other in existence today.

This does not prove, of course, that aircraft production is free from dishonesty or inefficiency; both may exist. It does indicate, however, that at least some of the loose talk of general failure in aircraft production is wholly without foundation in truth.

The American people want this matter probed to the bottom. They accordingly welcome Mr. Hughes as an inquisitor, for they have complete confidence both in his candor and his ability to get at facts. There will be no whitewashing done by any body of investigators or which the former justice is a member.

American Manhood.

But a short time ago pessimistic writers were hysterically bawling the deterioration of American manhood. They saw evidences of it in the factories, in the public schools, in every walk of life, and prophesied that in a few years we would be a pathetic race of pygmies. In any of our national encampments one may now see the finest specimens of manhood on the face of the earth. American manhood is far from deterioration. As a matter of fact we are growing stronger every day. Advancement in the sciences, clean living, and a better understanding of hygienic essentials have placed us in the forefront of physical development.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Take no heed of the tomorrow. Do it today.
